Big 4 Meeting Eyed for Spring

Problem of Germany May Bring Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big four foreign ministers conference next spring is being mentioned by many diplomats as a means of easing East-West tensions over Berlin.

Some officials are predicting, however, the three Western Allies will propose that such a meeting deal with the entire problem of Germany's future as well as Berlin.

American, British and French diplomats are reported giving increasing thought to the advantages of a new round of talks with the Russians. This prospect has been weighed carefully in considering a reply to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that West Berlin be turned into a free city.

The feeling that such new talks would be desirable appears to be gaining ground among Western diplomats. But a decision is being delayed until after the 15-nation Atlantic Pact Council meeting which starts in Paris next Tuesday.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now hospitalized by an intestinal ailment, is planning to attend the Paris conference, assuming he recovers in time. The

Ironton Family Dies As Fire Guts Home

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—A family of six persons sleeping in two beds in a three-room frame house burned to death early today, apparently trapped by the flames as they slept.

The victims were Elmer Littlejohn, 29; his wife, Betty, 25, and their four children, Gary 7; Gail 5; Dorothy 3 and a 3-month-old son.

Their deaths brought Lawrence County's fire toll to eight in less than a day. Harley Graham 23, burned to death Wednesday night when he tried to rescue his 8-year-old sister, Connie Sue, who was trapped inside their burning five-room frame house in Forest Dale, near Ironton.

Deputy sheriffs exploring the Littlejohn house after removal of the bodies said it appeared that an oil cooking stove probably set fire to the house. The dwelling is situated just outside the small community of Aid, on Ohio 141, about 14 miles northeast of Ironton.

The members of the family were sleeping in two beds. The bodies were found either in or near the beds, indicating that the flames had spread so quickly none had a chance to escape.

The fire broke out about 5 a. m., and the house was enveloped in flames before any neighbors could arrive on the scene. Firemen had to stand by until the flames died down and the ruins cooled before removing the bodies.

Workers Ask Contract Revision

Pottery Wage Talks By April Scheduled

Pottery industry labor and management will meet in a general wage conference "not later than April" to discuss revision of the current two-year working agreement that expires Oct. 1, 1959, the U. S. Pottery Association was told Wednesday afternoon at its 80th annual meeting in Pittsburgh.

Oswego Hopes Dimming With Fresh Snows

OSWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — Hope gave way to renewed gloom today in this blizzard-stricken city as residents awoke to new snow and a forecast of more.

Another four inches had fallen overnight, raising to about 6½ feet the thick, white blanket that has broken roofs, buildings and business, and almost broken spirit here in the last five days.

Two local building contractors estimated that damage has reached $500,000 and probably would go higher.

The battle to repair damage and prevent more resumed today in zero temperatures, with drifts more than 20 feet high.

Three families were reported evacuated from their homes during the night because of collapsing roofs.

So far, no injuries have been reported.

Most roads in the area had been opened and food supplies were considered adequate.

A contractor's warehouse and an oil company building collapsed Wednesday, and roofs of at least three other business places gave way.

Householders cleared snow from rooftops when cracks appeared in the walls of many dwellings. Wednesday there was some sunshine and the heavy snows tapered off.

Schools were expected to reopen Friday. Industries recalled workers.

Nine Take Tests For County Posts

LISBON — A Civil Service examination was given this morning to four county residents for the position of superintendent of the Columbiana County Home, according to Ned Dunn of the Ohio Civil Service Commission at Columbus, who was in charge of the test.

Five men took the examination for position of dog warden at the same time.

Both examinations were given in the law library by Dunn and his assistant, William Kanoskie, also of Columbus. The examinations took two and one-half hours.

Mr. Dunn said names of the persons passing the examinations will be certified to county commissioners as soon as the tests are graded, which may be within three to six weeks.

Nixon Cuts in On Assembly of Ike's Message

Probable Candidate For '60 Nomination Has Keen Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has cut himself in on the process of assembling President Eisenhower's State of the Union message with the obvious intention of accentuating modern Republicans.

Nixon has taken steps to make certain the Cabinet members who send their recommendations to the President know the vice president's views.

Cabinet members and others recommend to the President various ideas for possible inclusion in his annual message to Congress.

Bearing on Prospects
As a probable candidate for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination, Nixon was said to feel that the forthcoming message may have a direct bearing on his prospects for winning top place on the ticket two years from now.

For two hours Wednesday night the vice president met in his hideaway office at the Capitol with Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming.

Surprised by a reporter, Nixon discounted the session as one in which only routine legislative proposals were discussed. Later the group adjourned to a Washington restaurant where there were further talks about the program to be submitted by Eisenhower.

At the Capitol session, it was reported the three Cabinet members and the vice president discussed, among other things, a possibility of establishing a voluntary fair employment practices commission (FEPC) under some other name. Such a group would seek to lessen racial discrimination in employment.

Secretary Mitchell was reported to be going along with Nixon for a move in this direction.

Nixon's conference with the Cabinet members was significant for this reason: The men with whom Nixon met are the Eisenhower advisers most active in the fields of civil rights, labor, health and welfare. Those are fields in which some tokens of Republican progressivism could be imprinted upon the President's message.

Light Snow to Spread Over Most of Ohio

By The Associated Press
Button up your overcoats. Get out those galoshes. It's going to snow again in Ohio. And the temperature won't be any picnic either.

The Weather Bureau says occasional light snow will spread over most of the state by this afternoon, and there'll be more Friday, possibly locally heavy near Lake Erie.

Temperatures early this morning skidded as low as 8 below zero, following Wednesday's pattern.

Although skies were mostly sunny over the state Wednesday, snow continued to fall at Ashtabula. The Lake Erie city reported 26 inches on the ground as of noon Wednesday.

Dry, arctic air has whipped through Ohio the past few days and brought the coldest weather of the season.

Red Delegates Lose Tempers at Geneva

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union delegates lost their tempers today in the 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attack. They lashed out with denunciations of NATO and accused the West of trying to trick the Communist bloc with Trojan horse tactics.

Soviet Dep. Foreign Minister Vassili Kuznetsov became so angry during his speech that he apparently misunderstood some of the translations of remarks made by the Western side.

Kuznetsov thought he heard the name of John Foster Dulles and that set him off on a bitter denunciation of what he described as "aggressive Western tendencies." Actually, the Western delegates had made no reference to the U. S. secretary of state.

Soviet Col. Gen. A. A. Gorylov followed Kuznetsov with a speech filled with references to alleged Western attempts to spy on the Soviet bloc.

Federal Judge Set to Rule on Teamsters Issue

Union Is Accused Of Not Following Monitors' Reforms

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal judge rules today on complaints that the corruption-tainted Teamsters Union is ignoring reforms suggested by the three monitors he named to guide a cleanup.

The possibilities open to Chief Judge F. Dickinson Letts of the U. S. District Court include ordering James R. Hoffa to get out as union president.

Hoffa contends he is under no compulsion to follow the monitors' suggestions.

Purely Advisory
Another federal district judge, James C. Connell of Cleveland, ruled only last week that the monitors' powers are purely advisory and that under a consent order signed last January by Letts, Hoffa could do as he pleased subject to the Teamsters Union constitution.

Connell's ruling is being appealed.

The issues in the case before Letts go back to the Teamsters' 1957 convention at which Hoffa was elected president to succeed Dave Beck Sr. Beck and Hoffa both had been named in testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee that large sums of union funds had been mishandled.

A group of New York area rank-and-file Teamsters members brought suit here seeking to block Hoffa from taking over the union presidency on grounds he and Beck had rigged the election of delegates to insure Hoffa's victory.

That suit was compromised, with an agreement that Hoffa and other newly elected union officers could take over provisionally with the monitors named to police a union cleanup. Martin F. O'Donoghue, a lawyer who helped defend the Teamsters in early stages of the case, eventually became chief monitor.

New Building Permit Procedure In Effect

Applications for building permits must be filed with Mrs. Ruth Berry, city stenographer, Mayor Harold D. Smith announced today.

All applications will be checked by F. S. Barckhoff, city zoning officer, before being referred to the zoning board or its approval.

Persons seeking permits or new construction must bring their plans with them when making application.

Previously, building permits were issued by the mayor, the last one on Nov. 28.

Under the city's zoning ordinance, which took effect recently, the mayor can no longer issue permits.

Mahoning Board to Air Enrollment Problems

In an attempt to examine every possible solution to Mahoning Local School District's problem of lack of adequate facilities for its 3,909 students, Board of Education members and the four principals will meet in special session on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at McKinley School in Sebring.

The board scheduled the session at its meeting Wednesday night at McKinley School.

The discussion will center on the possibility of switching to the six-three-three plan of enrollment if building facilities in the district permit. The change would mean grouping grades as follows: one through six, seven through nine, and 10 through 12.

At present the eight-four plan is in effect.

Because of lack of space, the kindergarten program may have to be dropped next year. Three hundred students are now enrolled in morning and afternoon sessions in the four available classrooms.

Tape Recording Is Discovered

Ex-Members Linked With Cult Bombing

CHATHSWORTH, Calif. (AP) — Tape recordings discovered near the dynamited wreckage of the Fountain of the World monastery point to two former cult members as the bombers, police say.

Nine persons, possibly 10, were killed in Wednesday's earth-jarring explosion. The two dynamiters are believed to have shared the fate of their victims.

Detectives said the blast apparently was touched off by Ralph Muller, 33, and Peter Kamenoff, 42, both of Joshua Tree, Calif.

Tape recordings made by the pair the night before the dynamiting indicate they were angry at the leader of the cult Krishna Vanta, and wanted to "bring him to justice," officers said.

The tapes, an hourlong recital of grievances against Krishna and the cult, also were described as farewell messages and detectives believe the men deliberately blew themselves up.

Vanta, a barefooted, self-styled mystic, five of his flock and two children were killed in the explosion. One and perhaps two other bodies have also been recovered.

The violent explosion and the fire that followed made identification nearly impossible.

Muller and Kamenoff were seen in an argument with Vanta about an hour before the blast. Details of the quarrel were not known.

The tape recordings were found in Muller's pickup truck, parked near the cult's 29-acre colony in Box Canyon, about 30 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

After listening to them, officers peered together this story.

Muller and Kamenoff left their desert home in Joshua Tree — about 115 miles east of Los Angeles — picked up 20 sticks of dynamite and electric primers and drove to the cult area.

They registered at a motel in nearby Tarzana, set up their recorder and taped their last words.

"They said they wanted to bring Krishna Vanta to what they termed justice," said Undersheriff B. B. Cummings of Ventura County. "Whether they meant religious or otherwise, I wouldn't attempt to say."

Officers said Kamenoff blamed Vanta for separating him from his wife and child by persuading her to stay in the cult's Homer, Alaska, colony. Kamenoff also left a written farewell note, said detectives.

Both men were construction workers. Kamenoff was a member of the cult from 1949 until 1957. Muller was a member off and on for several years.

Utah Couple Marks 80th Anniversary

FAIRVIEW, Utah (AP) — All the days of their married life have started with a prayer, and today—their 80th wedding anniversary—was no exception for Peter and Celestia Peterson.

He is 98 and she is 97.

This central Utah town honored the couple with a testimonial dinner Wednesday night. A tape recording was made and will be played to them today because they couldn't make it to the dinner. Both are hard of hearing.

Mayor Otis Nielsen and Apostle LeGrand Richards of the Latter-day Saints (Mormon) Church called their lives and marriage a shining example of love and devotion.

They were married Dec. 11, 1878, in St. George, Utah, 250 miles southwest of here.

"My wedding dress had ribbons on it, but Peter took them off," recalls the silver-haired Mrs. Peterson. "He said, 'You're pretty enough without those.'"

Development Council Urges Plan for Perry

Trustees to Meet Dec. 22; Petitions Being Circulated

The Salem Area Development Council is expected next week to formally request Perry Township trustees to take action to have the township area zoned.

Petitions now being circulated by directors of the Council are expected to be returned by Monday for submission to the trustees. The trustees, who are understood to be in favor of zoning, three to one, will meet Dec. 22 to consider the request.

"With zoning now in effect in the city of Salem, it is imperative that the adjacent township areas be zoned to prevent haphazard land development and also to provide us a guide for the intelligent growth of the Salem district," explained Walter Jay Hunston, president of the Area Development Council.

"We feel that the residents of the township are overwhelming in favor of zoning," he added.

Offer to Share Cost
Mr. Hunston explained that "we have offered the township trustees full cooperation and assistance in bringing about zoning in that area, even to the extent of raising a portion of the $2,500 needed to finance a zoning program."

The Michael Baker Engineers of Rochester, Pa., which completed the arterial highway survey and master plan for Salem, has offered to make a zoning plan for Perry Township.

East Liverpool Police Case Goes to Jury

LISBON —The jury began at 11:25 a. m. today to deliberate the fate of Louis Stutler, 39, former East Liverpool policeman accused of the 1954 burglary of the Burdick Hardware store in East Liverpool.

The panel retired to the jury room following a half-hour charge by Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond Buzzard.

In his charge, Judge Buzzard referred to the fingerprint evidence presented during the trial. He said the two issues for the panel to decide were whether the print was that of the defendant and if it was made at the time of the crime.

A state fingerprint expert, Arnold Fetter of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, testified Tuesday that a fingerprint which the prosecution claims was found on a wall of the store, is similar to the fingerprint pattern of Stutler's right index finger.

However, Albert Kittridge, also a former East Liverpool police officer and considered an authority on fingerprinting, testified Wednesday that prints introduced by the prosecution are not those of Stutler.

Stutler himself took the stand Wednesday and declared his innocence. He voluntarily permitted his palm prints to be taken by Fetter in the Courtroom for comparison with the state's evidence.

Later the state admitted that a palm print it had from the scene of the crime was not that of the accused.

Franko Must Reply to Suit

Youngstown Judge Has Until Jan. 1

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Municipal Judge Frank R. Franko of Youngstown has until Jan. 1 to reply to the Ohio Supreme Court in a suit brought to oust him from the bench. If he doesn't answer by then, the court said it will issue an order to remove him as judge.

Franko was suspended as an attorney for unethical practices. Atty. Gen. William Saxbe then brought a quo warranto action—a proceeding to determine a person's right to remain in office—in an effort to have Franko ousted as judge.

Franko filed an objection to Saxbe's suit, contending that his suspension as attorney did not require him to leave the bench. The Supreme Court Wednesday overruled the objection and set the deadline for an answer.

"In default of an answer by Jan. 1, 1959," the court warned, "a judgment of ouster will be entered."

Judges are required by law to maintain their status as members of the legal profession, the court noted, and said indefinite suspension is grounds for removal.

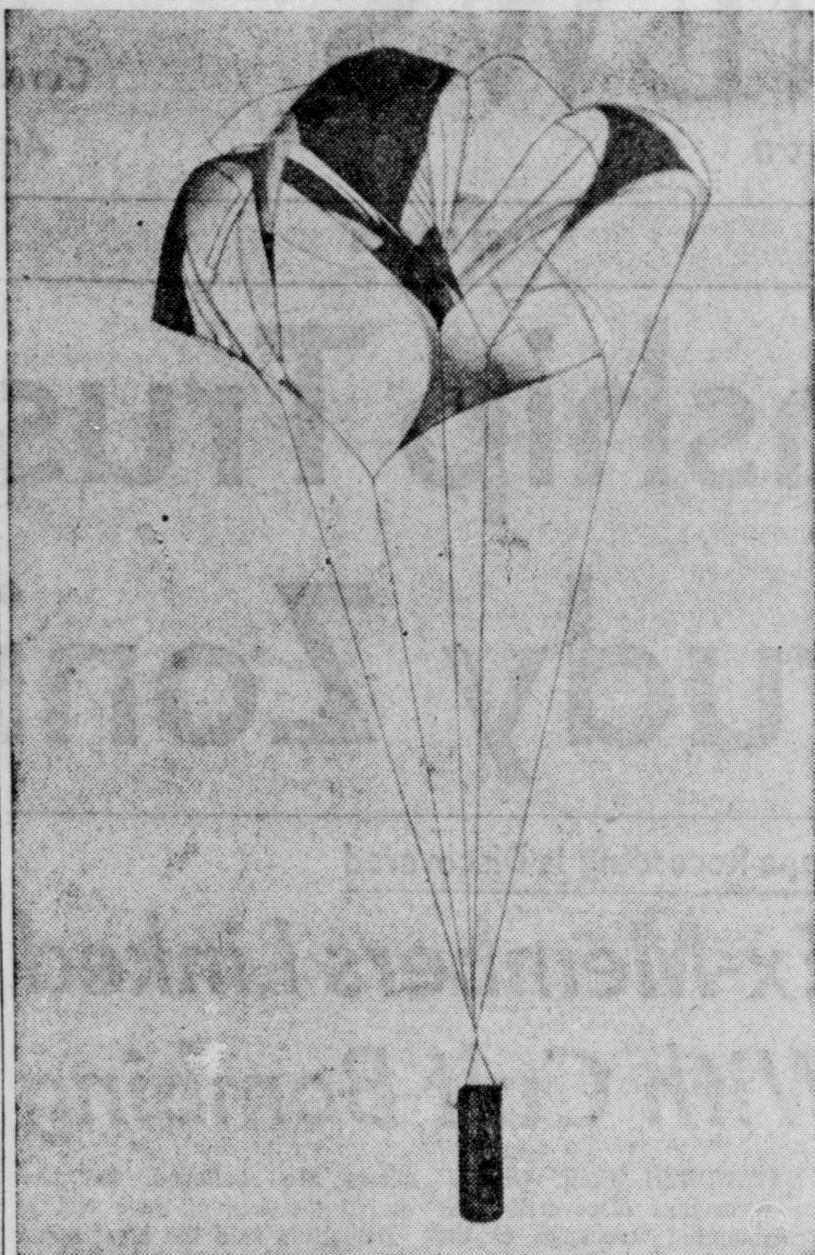

In another case, the high court refused to order Canton Municipal Judge Donald L. McCarroll to enter a judgment for Deville Photography, Inc., against 51 persons who purchased photographs by signing cognovit notes.

The court refused to enter a judgment in favor of Deville last Jan. 22, and the new action arose from that.

Deville has been involved in a number of court actions resulting from operation of its Columbus studio. The purchase of photos through cognovit notes was involved there also.

In other cases, the Supreme Court:

New Chute Spins Like Helicopter

Hailed as the first parachute innovation in 50 years is the Vortex Ring, left, a low-weight, high-drag chute which will fit into a brief case when packed.

Designed by David T. Barish, 37-year-old New York aeronautical engineer, the whirling chute substitutes four sail-like blades of cloth for the standard canopy. Rotation of the blades like a helicopter rotor creates a "vortex ring," or doughnut, of air around the tips. Lines attached to a swivel allow the spinning of the eight-pound chute.

The new design has proved to have virtually no oscillation or glide characteristics which make drops in high winds so dangerous. Low opening shock makes the chute excellent in paratroop drops from low altitudes, and from high speed aircraft.

Nation's Water Re-use To Become Big Problem

CINCINNATI (AP)—Maximum re-use of water will soon become a major problem, a top health authority warned members of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Speaking before the final session of the institute's annual convention here Wednesday, Dr. Mark D. Hollis of Washington, assistant surgeon-general of the U.S. Public Health Service, said this particularly will be the case once major population increases are felt and if present trends toward urbanization continue.

Today's average urban dweller requires 140 gallons of water for his personal day-to-day needs, Dr. Hollis said, adding "when we add to this the water required to produce the things he eats and wears and uses, his individual needs reach some 1,500 gallons a day. Our present total water requirement is expected to double by 1975."

Ohio Scientists Study One-Shot Bug Killer

CLEVELAND (AP)—Scientists at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster are studying potent one-shot chemical killers of plant insects and diseases. Dr. Jay Slesman described the new system to the Vegetable Growers Assn. of America convention Wednesday.

Researchers at the Wooster station are experimenting with systemic insecticides, which are applied to the soil rather than to the plant. The poison is absorbed by the plant and kills pests that feed on it.

The system has only one drawback—it can also kill human beings if the grower fails to follow instructions.

"We are just beginning on systemics," Dr. Slesman said, "but the future looks bright."

One application in the soil at the time of planting potatoes, he said, gave 100 per cent control over potato leaf hoppers and eliminated the need for weekly sprayings.

He predicted widespread use of systemics on ornamental plants and said the system might be the answer to Dutch Elm disease.

The vegetable growers end their convention tonight with a banquet and elections.

George Devries of Evergreen Park, Ill. is slated to become president. He will succeed Paul B. Ruetenik of Vermilion, president for the past three years.

Ruetenik said this year's convention had the largest registration and the most exhibit space of any previous gathering.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Questions and Answers

Today's first question is more complicated than appears at a glance.

Q — Don't you think that the habit of shaking hands with everyone you meet is likely to spread disease, particularly the common cold?

A — So far as the common cold is concerned, I suspect that coughing and sneezing is a much more important method of spreading the common cold than handshaking. Nevertheless it is a possible hazard.

Some time ago a question of this sort was submitted to two consultants for the Journal of the American Medical Association. One wrote that in contagious disease hospitals and children's hospitals, the hands can be an important factor in transmitting infection from one patient to another and that his should be prevented by washing and other well-known methods. He added that "outside of hospitals and similar institutions, mere handshaking probably plays an insignificant part in transmission of disease. . . . However, in the event of an epidemic disease prevailing in a community, it would be proper to warn against unnecessary handshaking."

The other consultant quoted from a book published in 1945, which said, "Hands and fingers contaminated with secretions are undoubtedly the most important agents in contact infection." But the brighter side of the picture, he said, is that many bacteria are destroyed by drying and exposure to the air.

Q — Is tea drinking a harmful thing to the health?

A — A delightful discussion of this subject was written by a physician not long ago. Aside from water, he said, tea is the world's most popular beverage. Taken in reasonable quantities it alleviates fatigue as the result of stimulation of the nervous system and exerts some other effects, including those on the emptying of the stomach and on stomach secretions.

It would seem that reasonable tea drinking is not only harmless but a pleasant and relaxing custom in which enormous numbers of people indulge.

Q — Lately I have noticed the appearance of white spots on the skin of both hands. What could this be and what could be done for it?

A — The most likely explanation is that this is a skin disorder known as vitiligo. Its cause is unknown, though it appears to be to some extent in families. It is harmless so far as health is concerned.

Recently there have been some studies of a chemical preparation which can be taken by mouth and which restores the pigment for about one in four persons (so long as the drug is continued). However this has had some undesirable side effects so that it should only be tried under medical supervision, if at all.

Wrong-Way Pike Driver Speeds Between 2 Cars

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A wrong-way motorist sped between two trucks traveling side by side on the Ohio Turnpike Wednesday night after narrowly missing a head on collision with a highway patrol cruiser.

Held on a drunk driving charge in nearby Newton Falls is J. Emerson Goodrich, 62, a Hudson insurance salesman.

Highway Patrolmen R. C. Hannon said he started to pass a truck in the westbound lane near the Warren interchange when he saw oncoming headlights. The patrolman said he jammed on his breaks and managed to get out of the passing lane as the wrong-way car sped past.

Hannon radioed another cruiser to stop the car.

Then, Hannon said, he remembered two trucks he had passed moments before.

"I felt sure this was going to be it for the guy," he said.

Hannon crossed the medial strip and headed back in the eastbound lane. He found the trucks, one stopped on the right side of the road and the other in the depressed center strip.

The trucks, Hannon said, were traveling side by side as the wrong-way car approached. They gave way to opposite sides of the road and the car sped between them.

"Those truckmen were still shaking," Hannon said.

SEARCH FOR PIG

LOCUST GROVE, Okla. (AP) — A 15-man posse searched the hills today for a greasy pig which broke out of its pen. It had been greased up for a race at an annual pre-Christmas affair here.

Lake Central Faces Loss of Nine Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has started an investigation into whether Lake Central Airlines should continue to serve nine cities—five in Ohio—which are now served on a temporary basis.

The cities are Springfield, Zanesville, Marion, Dover and New Philadelphia, Ohio, and Gary, Richmond, Marion and Bloomington, Ind.

Lake Central has been given permanent authority to serve most cities on its routes but is authorized to serve smaller communities for only three-year periods.

Lake Central's temporary service to Dover and New Philadelphia is on the Cincinnati-Columbus-Buffalo route. But the airline also serves Dove and New Philadelphia on a permanent route westward to Kokomo, Logansport and Peru, Ind.

Community Scholarships

Through the efforts of the Salem Scholarship Association, nearly 35 local boys and girls have been able to pursue further education after graduating from high school.

The association has granted loans to college students, a number of whom discovered after their sophomore year that the threat of financial embarrassment would cut short their quest for a degree and attainment of a cherished vocation.

Applications to the Scholarship Association were referred to a committee, which after investigation and counseling, usually gave more than a friendly word of encouragement to the student. Under the scholarship plan, a community non-profit association, the boy or girl receiving a loan agrees to re-pay it after they are gainfully employed.

In every instance, the student has been so appreciative that there's never been any question of a default. Local boys and girls have gone on to become physicians and dentists, engineers, teachers, lawyers, nurses and to fill other positions.

Nearly $20,000 has been loaned and $5,900 repaid to the association, President Guy Mauro and Secretary Ray Himmelsbach report, but economic conditions have resulted in new applications from deserving students.

Because the association's heart is bigger than its purse, the directors have authorized a fund campaign to bolster the treasury. Your contribution to the Scholarship Association will be an investment in the future of a fine group of young men and women who already have demonstrated their ability.

Good Leadership For Ohio Assembly

The new Ohio General Assembly, under Democratic control for the first time in a decade has made a good start even before it has come into being.

The Democrats have elected capable leaders. James A. Lantz, three-term state representative from Lancaster, was selected last week by his fellow Democrats as speaker of the new House. Frank W. King of Toledo who won stature as a leader when his party was in the minority, was selected the week before as president pro tem of the Senate.

Both these leadership posts are of tremendous importance to the citizens of Ohio. It is the speaker who controls committee appointments and steers — or does not steer — legislation through the House. The president pro tem holds similar power in the Senate.

THE TWO LEADERS wield more influence in Ohio than the governor. A governor cannot get his program through the assembly if the majority leaders don't want it. They frequently can get their own program through if the governor does not want it, sometimes even over his veto.

No Standard Uniform for Teachers

The Ohio Board of Education will not involve itself in a squabble over the right of the Washington County board of education to hire Catholic nuns as teachers. It has affirmed that most Ohioans believe to be true—that the religious belief of a teacher who is properly accredited and certified should not be taken into consideration.

As for what a teacher wears, the Washington County board already had cleared up the point about the religious garb of its teaching nuns by asking for a ruling by the Ohio attorney general.

The ruling stated what is obvious. There is no law in Ohio that bars a Catholic nun from wearing her religious habit in a school-teaching position, if she happens to hold one. Ohio does not prescribe what its teachers shall and shall not wear.

That is an administrative decision within the province of local school authorities. If they hire a Catholic nun as a teacher, it is to be expected the nun will wear her religious garb.

It is likewise to be expected that she will not make the mistake of Ohioans who have been jumping on the Washington County board of education because they did not make a distinction between religious garb and religious instruction. The nuns were not hired to give religious instruction, and it is not being alleged that they are doing so. They are teaching school.

Ohioans who really believe education should continue to be a local responsibility will strongly support the Ohio Board of Education in trying to keep it that way. It declares it has no official right to interfere in a local matter, and neither do those who have been trying to nibble into it unofficially.

Remember?

No sir, winters aren't what they used to be. We can remember when a kid with a sled had about as much chance of using it as a pussy cat with a half-million-dollar bequest.

Four, five, six winters would go by in a row without any ice worth fastening on a pair of skates for. It was always too thin.

The snowscapes like Grandma Moses used to paint on her Christmas cards were rarer than Republicans in Boston ward politics.

Selling a set of snow tires to a native was tougher than selling refrigerators to Eskimos, which was never as tough as it was made out to be anyway.

Householders with an urge to destroy themselves on the sucker end of snow shovels had to try to shovel up a cardiac attack with less than an inch of snow.

Golfers never bothered to put away their equipment. Not infrequently, if they were hopeless addicts, they played all winter.

The sharp little hooves of Santa's reindeer, useful for uncovering lichen in the frozen tundra, had to be encased in boxing gloves to keep them from cutting up the asbestos roofing on ranch-type houses.

Hardy spirits boasted of being able to get through a winter without overshoes, galoshes, overcoats and hats.

Those were the great old days, when winter was winter and it was feasible to fire off snoring postcards to suckers who had gone to Florida and run into foul weather: Wish you were here."

No kidding. We do wish they were here. We could make them trample a path for us through the snow we are tired of — and winter hasn't even started yet.

Once Over

Loose-fitting auto, or superdooper model so big a man can get lost in it, is to be continued by Detroit, with no surrender to signs public is beginning to go for a demi-tasse car. The auto industry rewrites the old poem to read:

Man wants but little here below:
An auto with lines long and low
Push buttons and some lavish trim. ...
With a body far too big for him.

THE 1959 CARS continue keeping-up-with-Joneses appeal. Detroit feels certain that the present — day high riding American wants to go two blocks for a 10-cent cigar in an auto big enough to cart home a grand piano. And that the women will continue to demand a bus that will be the envy of all the gals at the Tuesday bridge club luncheon.

Some folks argue that the yen for high priced de-luxers as a matter of "prestige" is dying out, because so many are going for luxury models that all stand-out prestige is lost.

The butler is apt to roll around in the same ultra-ultra sedan the millionaire boss drives. There is no assurance today that a "Daddie" belongs to some oil tycoon or to your janitor.

QUESTION OF THE DAY is whether the auto trade is smart in outdating models so swiftly. New models used to come out at the January auto show. Customer could buy one fairly sure it would be in style for a year. This season new models had an August preview. Salesrooms get them in a few weeks. Which means a buyer who went for a new car last spring or early summer will be driving an outdated boiler before he has had it four months.

It is now possible to leave a salesroom in a new car and find a man arriving in an entirely new model.

SEN. HUMPHREY and Nikita Khrushchev had an eight-hour talk. Both men must have been all "beat up" at the bell.

Rodgers and Hammerstein have another hit in "Flower Drum Song" with a Chinese background. A sort of "Okla-Suey," or "The Chings and I." Overheard coming out of the oriental musical: "That reminds me; I must stop and get my laundry."

FTC ordered its 350 staff members to listen to TV and radio commercials when off duty. This seemed an ordeal beyond reason, and FTC softened the blow by explaining they need not tune in especially for commercials but listen only when tuning into programs they liked. This means all they will have to do is endure interruptions as a matter of duty.

Frank Erickson, often in prints as king of bookies, was handed back $1,471,000 in income taxes. (Anything to help the small businessman.) Mr. Whiskers said Erickson owed $5,400,000. Erickson made payment of 3% million dollars during litigation to keep penalty taxes from growing.

As we get it, Washington ran out of lawyers, Erickson's two-platoon barristers became exhausted and Erickson's offer to split the difference was accepted. How about formal refunding ceremonies with orchestra playing, "Horses, Horses, Horses"?

Council's Weakness

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest weakness in what the Democratic Advisory Council recommends is that the two most powerful Democrats in Congress — Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson — are not members of the council.

The council includes some of the very top Democrats—like former President Harry S. Truman, Adlai Stevenson, New York's Gov. Averell Harriman — but when it was created two years ago Rayburn and Johnson, both of Texas, refused to join.

If they had accepted membership, they would have committed themselves to follow through on what the council recommended. By standing aloof they can pretty well pick and choose what they want to push or fight for.

Since the Democrats lost the presidential election in 1956, the party was left without any real, single head for the next four years. The council attempts to assert some leadership.

Thus the program it outlined Sunday for Democrats in Congress to follow in 1959 was a statement of goals, hopes and intentions. It's been called the Democrats' State of the Union message."

Text month, as usual at the beginning of each session of Congress, President Eisenhower will present his own State of the Union message, outlining his programs and ideas for 1959.

Both houses of Congress will listen attentively and then suit themselves about what they will accept, reject, modify or expand from all the proposals Eisenhower makes.

The same will be true of the congressional attitude towards the Democratic Advisory Council's ideas.

Members of Congress, and this certainly goes for their leaders, are very jealous of the rights, privileges and prerogatives of the legislative branch of the government.

They reserve to themselves the right to make the final decisions on any proposals from the executive branch, headed by Eisenhower, or from any outsider or group of outsiders, like the Democratic Advisory Council.

Rayburn, boss of the House Democrats, and Johnson, leader of the Democrats in the Senate, are both conservative. The Democratic Advisory Council's recommendations were both more liberal and more far-ranging than anything being talked about by Rayburn and Johnson.

For example: The council suggested making the law tougher to give the government a stronger hand in protecting civil rights; it suggested the Senate should make it easier to make it easier to smash filibusters.

Again and again the Southern Democrats have used the filibuster—which, under present Senate rules, gives them the right to almost unlimited debate—to block civil rights legislation.

But the fact remains the new Congress, where the Democrats have an overwhelming majority, will have to look to Rayburn and Johnson for leadership.

Both men in the past have shown an amazing ability to get from their fellow Democrats and even from many Republicans cooperation and approval on the various pieces of legislation they wanted to see get through.

For both men next year the job of shepherding the legislation they want may be tougher, if only because there will be more Democrats in Congress.

Nevertheless, Rayburn and Johnson will be key men. Therefore in large measure the program produced by the Democratic Advisory Council will depend on Rayburn and Johnson.

Ike's Next Two Years

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Eisenhower Knows 'Mood' of the People

The next two years for Ike—what will they be like? What ought he to do, and what will he do?

This is the subject uppermost in the minds of many people in Washington. It is important to the Republican party, to the country as a whole and to the world.

President Eisenhower is the last person anyone would call a politician, and it has often been said that he has no taste for politics. Both statements can be right and yet it is conceivable that in his way Mr. Eisenhower could achieve real success on the political front.

For, while the word "politics" connotes a game or a contest between parties and persons in governmental life, it has a broader meaning—the capacity to understand the mood of the people. The key to leadership in the next two years, therefore, is in how to deal with the mood of the people.

Obviously, the first step is to make sure just what the national mood really happens to be.

Today the national mood is a composite of a lot of local and individual moods. But there is a common denominator running through all of them. There are gripes galore. There are irritations and annoyances of the economic world and many worries over the fact that the Communists do not seem to want to let things alone.

There are grievances about high taxes and inequitable taxes.

There are fears about the steady decline in the purchasing power of the dollar—otherwise called inflation.

THERE IS UNREST as between management and labor and a belief that organized labor will abuse its collective-bargaining power and exert higher and higher wages. This means higher and higher prices and squeeze particularly on the people with fixed incomes.

How then to cure the discontent? For discontent produced the negative reaction that instigated the Democratic party's landslide in the recent elections.

The first and foremost problem in national and international affairs is to fix responsibility. In the recent elections the electorate didn't stop to ask who was in command in both houses of Congress during the last two years—the blame for everything was placed on the Republicans.

This was due to the tactics of the Democrats who assumed no responsibility themselves but constantly fostered the illusion that the president controls the budget, that the president writes the appropriate laws, that the president can increase or decrease spending, that the president can control wages and prices, and that the president can wave a wand and bring prosperity or, by making a mistake, drive the country into a recession.

There is no such thing as responsible government in the parliamentary sense. Mr. Truman had no qualms about fixing responsibility on the Republican Congress which he had on his hands from 1946 to 1948, and he won the presidential election.

In season and out he hammered away at his political opponents and continually characterized the 80th Congress as the "do nothing" Congress.

The last Congress was one of the worst in American history if the criterion is the protection of the national interest against tyranny and autocracy in the courts, and if it be assumed that the preservation of the right of local self-government is any longer important to the people of America.

THE CONGRESS, moreover, encouraged policies of extravagance in the handling of public funds and turned away from constructive measures looking toward ways of using the tax system as an incentive to business expansion.

Meddling by Congress in the conduct of foreign policy was constant so that the world isn't sure today whether partisans on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee or the officials of the Department of State speak for this nation to other nations.

Actually, Mr. Eisenhower can wield more power with the people now than ever before if he diagnoses the national mood correctly and keeps up a persistent campaign for measures and policies that he believes are right.

Contentment for the electorate will not come in two years but responsibility for the discontent can be marked out clearly so that in the elections of 1960 and 1962 and 1964 the people may know that, when they vote Democratic or Republican, they are choosing certain policies and certain individuals to carry them out.

If the electorate isn't afraid of a deep recession and a runaway inflation and doesn't care what happens to the dollar, surely one political party ought, through its leadership, to spell out the facts in unmistakable terms so that, if the debacle does come, the nation can return to the party that continuously preached sound economics.

Basically it's the pocketbook issues that win or lose elections. If Mr. Eisenhower is well advised, he will make an aggressive fight in the next two years to keep the politicians in Congress—who hold the purse strings—from robbing the people of their savings. There is no more important issue.

Roses by Other Names

By TRUMAN TWILL

There pops into the news occasionally an alleged scalywaggism so imaginative it compels the grudging admiration of even law-abiding citizens.

They are tempted to forego their customary satisfaction of putting the culprit into the pillory and pelting him with disapproval.

We feel this way about "Cue Ball Kelly" of Brooklyn. His proper name is Carl Zingale, and he is charged with mislabeling bottles of perfume. The charge states he was making a mixture in the bathtub and selling it under a famous label for a small fraction of what the real thing brings in the market place.

Grudging admiration is compelled by the twist in "Cue Ball's" mode of operation. He is not charged with selling his bathtub product at the going price of what it was mislabeled as being. He is charged only with using wrong labels to push the sale of a bogus article at about one-eleventh of the price of the real thing.

"Cue Ball" may have been trying to democratize what has become a curious form of Christmas cheer — the happy illusion that roses by many other names can wield a powerful influence over the skittish male and cause him to run headlong into the tender trap. Each year before Christmas, magazines are crowded with vivid suggestions to this effect. A thousand ad men keep busy from Independence Day onward, thinking of lurid labels to paste on the petals of flower-petal squeezers.

They are assisted by hundreds of artists and layout men who put every erg of their skill into the presentation of the case for trapping males with a swab of high-octane perfume back of each ear. The location is important.

There being two ears located on the two sides of the head, a swab behind each insures the widest possible radiation. The male about to be trapped will get a provocative whiff whether approaching from the sides or getting caught in the vapor trail at the rear. It is assumed if he is to be trapped head-on, any lively female can close in fast enough to give him the scent before he runs away.

One whiff and pow! He has been nerve-gassed. He rolls his eyes and paws the air. His nostrils flare, and he finds himself singing "Tea for Two."

He breaks out in a dew of amorous desire. He flecks the foam off his chops with an eager tongue and wants to play house right there. But, as one might expect, stuff of this potency doesn't come at the price of Flit. The perfumers ask real folding money for their stimulating distillates of the contented, tender top leaves of happy flowers.

Enter "Cue Ball Kelly," with a thought for all who cannot pay the price for the upturn product. He had a cut-rate illusion to sell. It was a raw deal. His stuff was not what it purported to be. It probably wouldn't catch flies, let alone make Rover roll over and say, "I do."

But who can prove it would not have gladdened the Christmas season for its recipients and its purchasers? Let there be no misapprehensions about the latter. Though perfume supposedly is something He gives Her at Christmas, so She can make withdrawt, it also is something She gives Herself.

So They Say

American cars are vulgar and monotonous. They're like the legendary brazy blonde. She's pretty dazzling for the first five minutes, but then you're embarrassed to be seen with her. — Industrial designer Henry Dreyfuss.

Our reputation over (Suez) took a bigger knock than at any time since the Boer War. It amazes me that this terrible error has not been more vigorously prosecuted by politicians who recognize it as a crime. — British Lord Altrincham, suggesting a "conspiracy" existed to hush up invasion of Suez.

Canton Jury Finds Zanesville Man Guilty

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A Stark County Common Pleas Court jury today convicted Russell McCoy, 24, of Zanesville, of first-degree murder, but saved him from the electric chair by recommending mercy.

The jury of nine men and three women deliberated 38 minutes.

McCoy was tried for aiding and abetting the killing of Reynold Amodio, manager of the County Line Market at Uniontown, during a robbery on the night of Nov. 23, 1956. He also is charged with killing a clerk, Paul Cain.

He showed no emotion when the jury foreman handed the verdict to the court bailiff, but broke into tears when his mother, Mrs. Estella McCoy, tried to console him after the verdict was announced. Mrs. McCoy was the only witness presented by the defense.

Tears welled in the eyes of Richard See Tuesday as he testified at the trial of his uncle. McCoy has admitted killing See's parents in their cabin near Zanesville.

Little Change In November's Unemployed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment remained virtually unchanged in November instead of rising seasonally as expected.

The government reported total employment fell by 653,000, to 64,653,000.

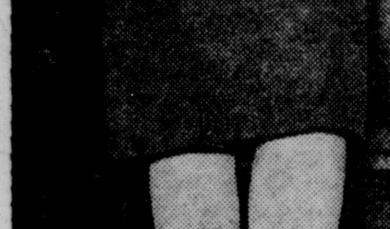

Unemployment by Census Bureau count, rose 28,000 to 3,833,000.

This is considered so small a change as to be within the scope of statistical error. In other words, the figure might have changed just as much the other way. The joint Commerce-Labor Department announcement said it represented virtually no change.

The factory work week averaged 39.9 hours or two hours longer in November than in October. This was due to a sharp increase in auto industry overtime and in the end of a number of labor strikes. The longer work week along with some new pay raises pushed factory worker earnings up $1.62 a week to a new high of $86.58. This is $3.66 higher than a year ago. Increases were shown by every industry group.

The new government jobs report reflected a generally improving national economy. The drop in employment was accounted for chiefly by seasonal curtailment of farm activity.

The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment fell to 5.9 per cent in November, a 10-month low. At the low point in economic activity last spring and again in late summer, this rate had been as high as 7 1/2 per cent.

Cincinnati Minister at Eve Of Trial Without Any Witness

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Rev. 000 Challenge," Wednesday brayed near zero weather to picket Hamilton County Court House where the Rev. Mr. McCrackin is being held.

Fichter walked before the cameras on Nov. 17, 1957, and started to read a prepared statement "America, I have a challenge for you. The Russians are ahead of you. . . . That was as far as he got before stage attendants hustled him away. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital for observation, and released.

The Rev. Mr. McCrackin, a self-proclaimed pacifist, faces trial in U. S. District Court Friday on a charge that he didn't turn up for a conference on his income tax affairs. He was carried bodily into a U. S. commissioner's hearing in September, jailed briefly but then released on his own recognizance when he refused to qualify for bond.

More recently, he was brought into court in a wheel chair. He refused to enter a plea, asserting that to do so would be to aid a legal cause, whereas, in his view, only moral issues were at stake.

Talking with a reporter from his jail cell Wednesday, the Rev. Mr. McCrackin said there was historical justification for his actions in the experiences of the early Christians.

"They simply wouldn't go along with orders of the Roman government," he said, "either in the paying of temple tax or the burning of incense on the altar before Caesar's image. The Christians would be lined up before the altar. If they consented to burn the incense and say 'Caesar is Lord,' they were freed; if they did not, they were subject to torture and death. In my case, had I obeyed the summons, it would have been like putting the pinch of incense before Caesar's image.

"I felt that in responding (to the summons) I would be taking the first step in conceding the government's moral right to collect money for something I believe to be diabolically evil." The Rev. Mr. McCrackin referred to criticisms he has leveled against use of tax money for "war and bombs."

Deliverymen Strike Idles City's Dailies

NEW YORK (AP)—Presses of New York's major daily newspapers were stilled today as the papers discontinued publication in the face of a strike by their deliverymen.

Last to call off efforts to keep limited publication going were five afternoon papers, the World-Telegram & Sun, the Journal-American, the Post, the Long Island Press and Long Island Press and Long Island Star-Journal.

Earlier the Daily News, a morning paper, skipped all editions after composing room workers defied their union president and refused to cross deliverymen's picket lines.

Two other morning papers, the Times and the Herald Tribune, suspended publication after their final editions were out.

The lone remaining morning paper, the Mirror was expected to halt publication.

The strike, now in its second day, has swept newsstands clean of major newspapers in the city of five million newspaper readers. There was no prospect of negotiations to end the strike until a meeting set for Friday.

Officers of all newspaper unions except for the Deliverers have instructed their members to stay on the job.

The Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union struck Tuesday night over wages and fringe benefits. A strike by the same union Monday lasted less than eight hours.

The Deliverers originally struck the newspapers for a $10-a-week wage package, plus improved vacation, holiday and sick leave benefits and 40-pound bundles to replace 53-pound bundles.

The strike ended when negotiators agreed on a $7-a-week wage boost and 50-pound bundles. When the union membership voted 877-722 against accepting the proposed contract, the union renewed its walkout.

Basic wage under the old contract was $103.82 for a 40-hour week for day drivers.

Johnson Won't Have Difficult Time With Senate Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—A look at the record indicates Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, won't have such a tough time as might be expected next year in keeping a check-rein on the newly elected Senate Democrats.

There are 15 of them. Not one of them can be called wild-eyed. Almost all are moderate in their views. A majority of them—eight of the 15—were members of the House this year or in the recent past.

In the House they worked pretty quietly under the leadership of Speaker Sam Rayburn, boss of the House Democrats. Rayburn, like Johnson, is a Texan. Both men are moderates, are close friends, work closely together.

So, for a majority of the 15 new Senate Democrats, moving from the House is like exchanging Rayburn for Johnson.

The three Republicans who won Senate seats this year for the first time were all members of the House this year. They are Kenneth Keating, New York; Hugh Scott, Pennsylvania; and Winston L. Prouty, Vermont.

Johnson, who recently outlined a 12-point program for the Senate in 1959, omitted any mention of action on civil rights. On this point he may have trouble with some of the new men.

They may gang up with the present band of liberals in the Senate—like Democrats Paul Douglas (Ill.) and Hubert Humphrey (Minn.), and Republicans Jacob Javits (NY) and Clifford Case (NJ)—to smash the present Senate rule on filibusters.

Under the present rule Southern Democrats can pretty well block legislation on civil rights, if they want to, with unlimited debate. Changing the rule to make it easier to cut off filibusters would also make it easier to get civil rights bills through.

Four of the new Democratic Senators were members of the House this year. They are:

Clair Engle of California; Eugene McCarthy, Minnesota; Robert C. Byrd, West Virginia; and E. L. Bartlett, who had for years been Alaska's delegate to the House, without a vote.

These four were House members in past years:

Thomas J. Dodd, Connecticut; Harrison A. Williams Jr., New Jersey; Stephen M. Young, Ohio; and Jennings Randolph, West Virginia. The three new Republican Senators—Keating, Scott and Prouty—were House members this year.

A newsman whose job is covering the House—he's been doing it for years—puts this tag on the views of the eight former Democratic members of the House and the two Republicans who were House members:

Engle—moderate to liberal; McCarthy—moderate to liberal; Byrd—liberal; Bartlett—moderate; Dodd—moderate to liberal; Williams—liberal; Young—moderate; Randolph—moderate.

No one around here is running for a bomb shelter, either, at the thought of what may happen when these other new Democratic Senators—none of whom served in the House—come here to take their seats in January.

Mayor Vance Hartke of Evansville, Ind., who calls himself a middle-of-the-road Democrat; Edmund S. Muskie, twice Democratic governor of highly conservative Maine; or—

Animal Parties

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Mary Simpson, known as the Elsa Maxwell of the pet world, has an odd professional ambition. She wants to throw a beach party for horses. "A beach is an ideal place for such a party," she explained. "Horses love the surf, but most of them rarely get to visit a beach."

Throwing parties for animals is now a career for this pretty, blue-eyed blonde.

Miss Simpson, an employee of the Hess Bros. department store in Allentown, Pa., is the world's only pet party consultant — at least as far as she knows.

But Mary, a college graduate who majored in Far Eastern history, doesn't think of her job as odd. She has loved animals all her life, enjoys catering to them. "People have been throwing parties for their pets for some time," she said, "but it has been on a rather haphazard basis."

Miss Simpson likes to go over the animal guest list in advance — just as a professional Washington social hostess might.

"Animals don't differ much from human beings at a party," she observed. "They catch the air of excitement. They have their showoffs and their wallflowers. You have to be sure the guests will get along."

"So far I haven't supervised a party where we mixed canaries, parakeets and cats and dogs. But we've had a number of cat and dog mixed parties that come off very well."

"The fact a dog chases a cat outside the home has no bearing on how they will get along at a party. After they get to know each other, they behave very well. Cats and monkeys also get along well at parties," she said.

Jealousy arises only when the guest pet of honor gets all the presents — or when two dogs want to show off at the same time.

"As at a children's party," cautioned Miss Simpson, "it is important that all the guests receive a favor. And it is better if the favors are identical. This keeps down envy."

Pets like to play games at parties just like people. Their favorite games, Mary said, are "bone scramble" and "hide the meatball."

What should you give a pet as a birthday party present?

"The best present for a bird is another bird," said Miss Simpson. "The best way to surprise a cat or dog is to get it another toy like the very first one it ever had. It will remember — and be pleased."

"You can also get it a copy of some object it likes around the house but has been forbidden to have such as a slipper, lady's hat, rubber, or braided rug. But it is essential that you first use the object yourself, so that the pet will associate it with you. Otherwise he won't care for it."

Preliminary Hearing Set for Kidnaping Case

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ohioan Hubert Davis Lee, 24, will be given a preliminary hearing Dec. 19 on charges of kidnaping and assault with a deadly weapon.

Detectives said Lee also is wanted in Niles, Ohio, on car theft charges.

They said he tried to force a policeman into his car at gunpoint last Saturday night when the off-duty officer was called to the cashier's cage of a Hollywood night club to settle a dispute.

Lee had gone to the Palladium Night Club in hopes of contacting a woman friend who sometimes frequents the place. When he didn't find her inside, he demanded his admission price back.

When the manager called an officer to the cashier's cage, Lee pulled a gun, detectives said, and forced Sgt. Charles Smith to accompany him to a car outside. Smith overpowered Lee in the lobby.

The Atlantic Pact foreign ministers will discuss the reply generally, informants said, but will not seek to draft a reply. This conference would approve guidelines which diplomats would follow in drafting a formal note a few weeks later.

meeting with some of our representatives, their officers agreed to postpone this demand.

Continuing Wells declared that dinner ware plant workers will face a cut in overall earnings if wages are raised again because the compensating price increase on the finished product will cut down the market.

"It is difficult to conceive how any member of the IBOP who will give the situation five minutes thought can believe his earnings would be increased by an advance in wage rates under present conditions," he asserted.

"Those of us who are responsible for the sales of our product know with absolute certainty that had there been no wage increase and no price advance in November of 1957 the earnings of our employees since that time would have been far beyond what they have received at the higher wage rates."

Wells declared that records of individual companies show that pottery employees "had fewer hours of employment during 1958 than even during those dark years" of the depression in the early 1930's.

Board

The taxation rate, approved by the voters in the Nov. 4 general election, was accepted by the board for school operating purposes.

Board members agreed to make a survey to present to W. C. Smith, Mahoning County superintendent of schools, of the entire district's rehabilitation and repair needs in order to participate in a 1959 state program whereby the state will assist financially in the cost of a school's repair.

This action was approved by the state legislature last year, but no money was appropriated. Funds are expected to be made available by next year.

On Jan. 5 at 8 p.m. the board will meet at McKinley school for the re-organization meeting when new officers will be elected.

Robert S. Dunn of 605 E. 8th St. was among 102 employees of the Morgan Engineering Co. of Alliance who were honored last night at a banquet at the Alliance Country Club.

In inaugurating a 25-year club in which the company believes to have an unusually high percentage of veteran employees, the president, W. H. Morgan Jr., presented each of the 102 employees with an engraved watch.

Other employees from the Salem area who were honored include Samuel J. Brunner of Damascus; Howard R. Dinger of Deerfield; Charles E. Monnot, Benjamin F. Reese, and Ernest Angle of Homeworth; George P. Wright of Belmont; Kenneth Watson of North Benton; Floyd Suter of North Georgetown and Victor W. Zwhalen of Minerva.

Elected as the new club's officers last night were William J. Breckner, president; Lewis J. Skelly, vice president; Cathern Davis, secretary; and John Miza, treasurer.

The Morgan Engineering Co., which employs 700 people and was founded 90 years ago in Pittsburgh and moved to its present location in Alliance in 1871.

Zoning

Reese and Dale Paxson, the Area Development Council pointed out that last July "we promoted a proposal to be submitted to you from Michael Baker Engineers, feeling that if this firm did the zoning it would be done at much less cost than any other firm since they already had done the preliminary work on Salem's master plan and zoning ordinance. This proposal included a cost of $1,700 for the zoning program and $800 for subdivision regulations, or a total of $2,500. The Council then offered to raise a portion of this amount if the township trustees would pay a portion of it so that zoning could proceed immediately.

"To date there has been no activity on your part toward the goal of zoning in Perry Township. Consequently, the Board of Directors at their last meeting decided that the matter is so important to the future development of the Salem area that we are circulating petitions among residents of the township, which will be submitted to you, requesting that you proceed according to the law with the zoning of Perry Township."

The petitions need only eight percent of the township residents who voted for governor in the Nov. 4 election. Based on election board records, only 84 signatures are needed.

Commissioners Eye County Income Taxes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The County Commissioners Assn. of Ohio today considers a resolution calling upon the Legislature for authority to levy county income taxes.

The association calls it an "earnings tax," but it would be similar to income taxes levied by many Ohio cities.

The resolution is one of 24 in the association's legislative program which delegates will be asked to approve at the closing session of their annual convention.

The group is meeting jointly with the County Engineers Assn. of Ohio, which also holds its final session today.

Other resolutions which the commissioners will consider include a proposal urging the Legislature to approve an increase in fees charged by county offices. A similar act was vetoed by Gov. C. William O'Neill after its adoption by the General Assembly last year.

Another resolution asks that commissioners be given the right to employ legal counsel without consent of the county prosecutor or common pleas judge.

The county engineers are expected to deal with additional funds for county roads in their legislative program.

One proposal, under discussion Wednesday, seeks to increase fees for driver's licenses and thus make more money available for county road work.

Gordon Augspurger of Butler County is expected to be elected president of the commissioners' association today, while Cecil W. Stacy of Washington County will be installed as president of the engineers group.

The 69-foot weapon was fired once before from the cape and recovered.

One of the goals of this shoot reportedly was to test new instruments aboard the Snark. The range attempted and type of new equipment used was not disclosed. The Snark, capable of carrying a nuclear warhead over 6,000-mile range, will become operational next July when the first unit is assigned to Presque, Isle, Maine.

Santa and the ELF BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Esteban climbed into Charlotte's room where she told him of her father's plan to release a powerful gas on Christmas Day which will destroy all fairies — Santa Claus, the tooth fairies, the Queen Fairy. "Or maybe even me!" cries Esteban.

THE SLEEPING WOMAN (Chapter Seven)

"But why?" asked Esteban. "Why should your father want to destroy all fairies?"

Charlotte took the candle from her bed table. "Follow me," she whispered.

Softly she opened the door. Esteban, hardly daring to breathe, tiptoed behind her. Suddenly he stopped in terror, certain he saw Professor Szpilki stealing after them. But it was only himself shadowed on the wall.

Down the endless corridor and up three flights of stairs they went until at last they came to a gilded door. Charlotte opened the door and led Esteban into a large white bedroom.

In the center of the room was an enormous white bed and in the bed lay the most beautiful woman Esteban had ever seen. Tears came into her eyes. "She will never wake again," he gasped. "My mother," said Charlotte. "But why not?" cried Esteban.

"She was put under a spell by the Hangdog Hag." "The Hangdog Hag! Why that's the witch of Hangdog who despises all beautiful women!" Charlotte nodded. "My mother was the most beautiful woman in the whole world. The Hangdog Hag came one night and put her to sleep and said she would never wake up. Then the Hag vanished and has never been seen again."

"HOW AWFUL!" cried Esteban. "When my father saw what happened he swore he would find the Hag and put an end to her. But though he searched he never could find her. Finally he shut himself up in his laboratory and worked for weeks and weeks until he had made a mysterious gas. It is so powerful it will spread instantly over the earth and suffocate the Hangdog Hag wherever she is."

"That's good!" exclaimed Esteban. "But don't you see?" protested Charlotte. "It will destroy not just the Hag but all fairy folk everywhere!"

Esteban thought of the Queen Fairy and Santa Claus and the tooth fairies and the Sandman and all his other dear friends.

"They can't die!" he cried. "What would everyone do without them? What would it be like for the world if there were no Santa?" "I know, I know!" wept Charlotte. "What shall we do?"

"There's only one thing to do," said Esteban. "We must get that bottle of gas! Where does he keep it?"

"On a table in his workroom. I saw it there only last night when he came out of the room as I was passing."

"We'll get it," said Esteban. HE TOOK CHARLOTTE'S hand and turned from the bed. Then his heart dropped and he fell back in horror for the Professor himself stood in the door.

The professor shook his head sadly. "Ah, my boy, you should never have come back for I have heard all you said and now I must imprison you and Charlotte until my task is done."

Charlotte threw herself on him. "No, no father! Don't do it, please!"

"I must," said the professor gravely. "You and the boy will get in my way and nothing must stop me from setting loose my gas on Christmas Day."

Salem Faces First Road Test Friday At Columbiana

Both Clubs Won Openers Easily

Clippers Enter Tilt With One Letterman

Salem's basketball Quakers will be seeking to preserve a long winning streak Friday when they travel to Columbiana to meet Rich Berryman's Clippers.

The string is 20 straight wins in regular season play. The last time the Red and Black lost in non-tourney action was to Ashland 73-67 in the next to last game during the 1956-57 season.

They ended that year with a 64-51 win over Canton Central Catholic. Last season the Quakers won all 18 regular season tilts and just last Tuesday rang in the 1958-59 campaign with a 64-40 win over Struthers.

Salem mentor John Cabas and Berryman have more in common than just being rival coaches. Berryman was captain of the 1945 Columbiana team that won the state Class B championship under the guidance of Cabas.

Whereas Salem has four returning lettermen this season including three regulars, Columbiana has but one monogram winner and he didn't start last season on the Clipper team which won 16 and lost 7.

The Clippers advanced far in the state tournament only to be knocked out by Northwestern, the eventual unbeaten Class A king pin.

The Clippers' lone returnee who won a letter is 6-2 Ray Baltz.

Berryman, like any other cage mentor at one time or another, must sacrifice a year in order "to build."

This season is the building year at Columbiana.

Only three men are back of 12 that dressed for varsity action last year.

Columbiana has only two men who go over 6-feet. They are 6-2 junior Ray Baltz and 6-3 sophomore Don Davidson.

It is quite evident that Berryman is building this year. In the Clippers 47-27 win over North Lima in their season opener Tuesday he started one junior and four sophomores.

Besides Baltz and Davidson, he started with sophomores Gary Perkins, 5-10; Rich Harold 5-10 and Don Culp 5-9.

There are six other cagers, all under 6-feet, however, that Berryman could call upon to start against Salem.

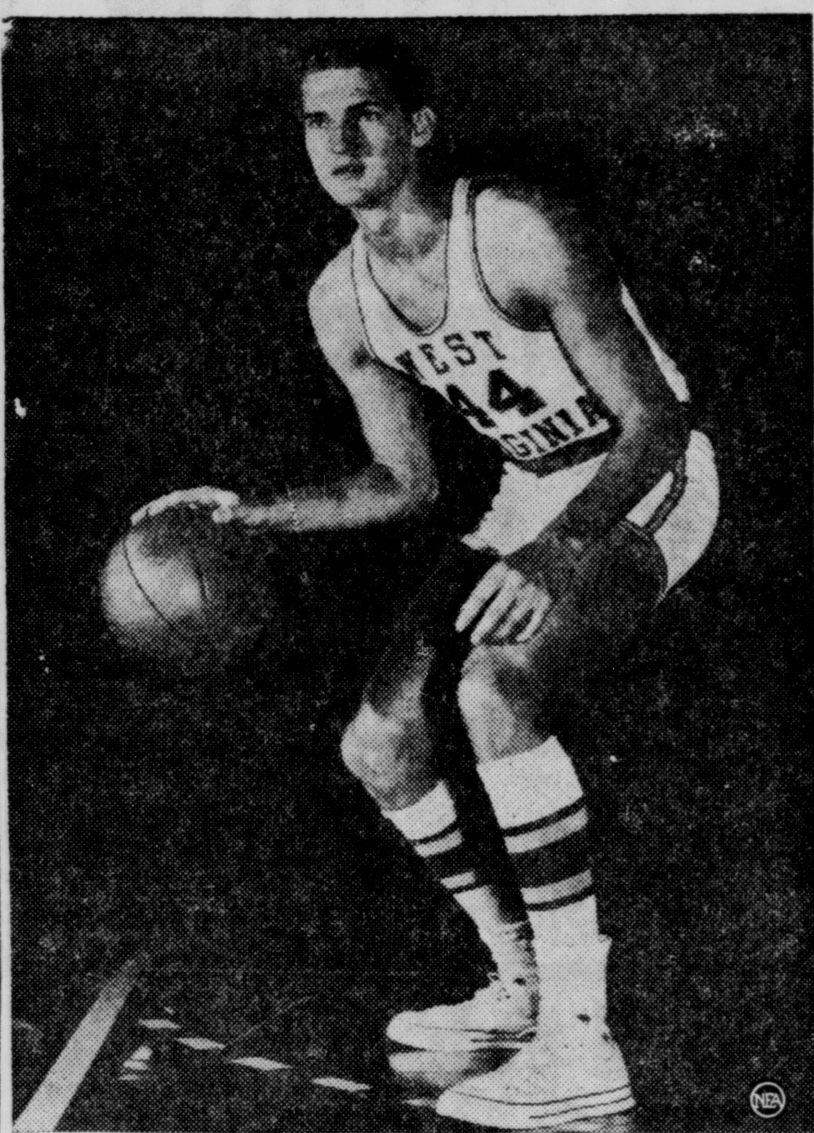

They are 5-9 Tom Logan, 6-0 Jim Bailey, 5-10 Carlyle Elser, 5-8 Paul Murphy, 5-7 Roger Fritch and 5-9 Ken Bailey.

Perkins topped the Clipper scorers against North Lima with 11 points.

Last season Salem won over Columbiana 69-64. The teams have met 18 times since 1932 and the Quakers hold a 12-6 edge.

Salem Coach John Cabas is expected to string along with the five men who started against Struthers. They are forwards Woody Deitch 6-4 and Clyde Marks 6-4, center Lou Slaby 6-4 and guards Dave Hunter 5-10 and Dan Krichbaum 5-9.

The junior varsity teams will begin play at 7 p.m. with the main feature tentatively set for 8:15.

RECORD SHOPPER — Jerry West of West Virginia, who as a sophomore last year averaged over 17 points a game and was mentioned as an All-America, starts this season out looking for more. A 6-3 driver with good spring, the Mountaineers boom him as better than Oscar Robertson.

Dayton Edges Miami 54-50, Wittenberg Upsets Toledo U.

By The Associated Press

Four of Ohio's undefeated college basketball teams continued their march Wednesday night.

The victors were Dayton (54-50 over Miami of Ohio), Defiance (68-64 over Bluffton), Wittenberg (66-6 over Toledo) and Ohio Northern (67-61 over Ashland).

Defiance chalked up its fifth straight win while the others all chalked up their third straight.

In other games involving Ohio teams, Denison scored a runaway 93-56 victory over Kenyon; Youngstown was in command all the way as it whipped Muskingum 85-60; and two West Virginia quintets smothered their Ohio competition.

West Virginia State beating Rio Grande 91-70, and West Virginia Wesleyan defeating Central State 80-65.

Miami was in contention down to the final seconds and was only two points away from tying Dayton. But Redskin Bill Brown's push shot with 11 seconds remaining failed to sink through the hoop.

Wittenberg had to go into a double overtime before overcoming Toledo's Rockets, who led most of the game. Wittenberg surged back from a 33-29 halftime deficit to a 51-all tie at the end of regulation play. Toledo dropped from the list of the unbeaten and now has a 2-1 mark.

Ashland made a desperate attempt to overtake Ohio Northern, tying the game four times in the second half, but the winning Polar Bears were too strong.

Defiance handed Bluffton its second loss in as many starts after letting the Beavers take an initial 4-0 lead. The Yellow Jackets bounced back to a 34-31 edge at intermission and were never

Fine Scoring Efforts Highlight City Cage Games

Burton Ford defeated Miller's Cities Service 84-59, Farmer's National Bank won easily over Schaffer Ford 73-53. Speaker's Market smashed Riffle's Plumbing 70-54, and Bennett's Greenhouse rallied late to win over the Salem News 62-55 in a full schedule of games in the Wednesday Division of the Salem City Basketball League last night at the Memorial Building.

Twenty-nine tallies by high scoring Gene Kitzmiller and 20 more by Phil Wenner paced Burtons in their win. They led Millers 35-21 at the half and widened it to 54-39 after three frames.

Bill Davidson's 22 and Howard Cope's 21 were high for the losers.

A big second quarter in which they outpointed their foe 23-4 paved the way for Farmers win over Schaffers. The winners led at the half 37-11 and coasted in from there.

Ten men scored for the winners in a display of balanced point production. Chuck Greiner led the way with 12 while Galen Beck and Jerry Myers had 10 each.

John Mandish's 30 points spearheaded Speakers over Riffles who were led by Carson McNeely's 17 and Bruce Galbreath's 16 tallies.

Speakers led 29-20 at the half and 47-33 after three frames.

Bruce Feicht, the division's leading scorer, really padded his lead with a 33-point effort against the News' team. The losers led all the way until the final three minutes when Bennetts rallied behind Feicht to pull out the victory.

Ray Esterly's 20 markers and 13 by Harry Savage were high for the losers.

Wednesday Division teams will again be in action this Friday evening. At 7 p.m. Riffles meet Millers while at 8, Speakers play the S. News. At 9, Schaffers will go against Bennetts and in the 10 game, Burton's will clash with Farmers in a battle for first place. Should Farmers win they'll about clinch first half matters but a loss will even the race in that circuit.

Moore Comes Off Canvas to KO Yvon Durrelle in Eleventh

MONTREAL, Que. (AP)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, more amazing than ever, today set his sights on three lucrative possibilities — A return fight with Yvon Durrelle and royal jousts with middleweight king Sugar Ray Robinson and heavy-weight ruler Floyd Patterson.

Of the three title tilts, a summer ball park clash here with Durrelle seemed the most likely after their thriller in the forum Wednesday night.

Old Man Moore's tremendous comeback to knock out the fired-up Durrelle in 49 seconds of the 11th round capped one of the exciting fights of the last 10 years.

Moore hit the deck four times, three times in a lively first round, and then rallied in the last six rounds. He dropped his wild-swinging young rival four times, including the picture-punching finale in the 11th.

"Durrelle put up a great fight and can have another chance if he wants it," said the remarkable 41-year-old champion from San Diego. "I'd like another chance too at heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson."

"Yeah, Patterson, we'd like him," interjected Moore's manager Jack (Doc) Kearns. "If he doesn't fight that Swede Ingemar Johansson this summer, maybe he'd like to take on the old man. If he's not interested then there's that Sugar Ray Robinson. He and Archie would pack any stadium."

Moore was full of praise for Durrelle, a 3½-1 underdog who put up a great battle.

"Durrelle is one of the very top light heavyweights I have ever fought," he said. "I knew I had him after the fourth round but before that I was awfully rocky. Every knockdown was clean and fair."

Temple Loses Third Straight Cage Contest

When asked to evaluate his team's chances for the 1958-59 college basketball season, Coach Harry Litwack of the Temple Owls declined a prediction.

"Let's wait and see," he said.

Now, after Temple's fourth game, he knows this is a season of rebuilding for the Owls.

Temple lost to Princeton 90-54 Wednesday night for its third straight setback after an opening game victory over Gettysburg. The other losses came at the hands of Lehigh and second-ranked Kentucky.

Last season Temple won third place in the NCAA Tournament and ranked fifth in the final Associated Press poll.

With Guy Rodgers, an All America selection, and four other first-stringers graduating, Litwack has only two experienced returnees in Bill (Pickles) Kennedy and Ophie Franklin to go with a sophomore-studded squad, which lacks height.

A 32-point harvest by Jim Brangan spearheaded Princeton to its success over Temple. All five Tiger starters hit double figures while sophomore Bernie Ivens topped the Owls with 18 points.

None of the nation's top 10 teams was scheduled Wednesday. Among the second 10 only Oklahoma State and St. John's (NY), each tied for 20th place, saw action. Both won handily, St. John's outclassing Brooklyn College 93-68 and Oklahoma State crushing Texas 66-39.

headed thereafter, although tied twice.

The Denison-Kenyon contest was beset by fouls—62 in all, and split almost evenly between them.

Rio Grande was one point behind West Virginia State midway in the first half, but were 15 points back when intermission rolled around. The Redmen never could catch up after that.

West Virginia Wesleyan rallied with 18 consecutive points while holding Central State scoreless. Wesleyan rode the tide from a 19-12 deficit to a 30-19 lead and went on to win its sixth game without a loss. Winless Central State has now lost five.

Muskingum also dropped from the unbeaten realm after winning two. It was Youngstown's third victory in four starts.

Ashley Cooper Wins Over Andres Gimeno

MELBOURNE (AP) — Top-seeded Ashley Cooper won a dogged duel from the sensational Spaniard Andres Gimeno 1-6, 13-11, 11-9, 58-63 and Mal Anderson outlasted Neale Fraser 63, 3-6, 2-6, 11-9, 86 today for an all Australian men's final in the Victorian Tennis Championships.

The marathon matches were played in a cold wind and occasional rain that delayed until Friday the completion of the semi-final doubles match involving the U.S. Davis Cuppers Barry Mackay and Alex Olmedo.

Mackay, from Dayton, Ohio, and Olmedo, a Peruvian who attends Southern California, lost the first set 6-4 to Cooper and Fraser but led 2-1 in the second on service. The match will be resumed at that point.

In the other doubles match, top-seeded Anderson and left-hander Rod Laver, who are the potential Australian Davis Cup team, crushed fellow Aussies Bob Howe and Don Candy 6-1, 6-1, 6-3.

Salem Frosh Rally To Beat United 43-35

Sam Pridon's freshmen basketball team opened their 1958-59 schedule yesterday by rallying in the second half to defeat the United Local frosh 43-35.

The young Quakers made but 5 of 19 shots in the first two periods but got hot in the second half by hitting on 13 of 26 shots 50 per cent) to overhaul United's 17-12 half time margin.

Bob Eskay spearheaded the Quakers' late rally by taking local scoring honors with 12 tallies. Salem's pressing defense also played havoc with the Golden Eagles in the third and fourth frames.

United made 11 of 41 shots in the tilt for 27 per cent while Salem hit on 18 of 45 shots for 40 per cent.

Salem outscored United 15-8 in the third frame to move ahead 27-25 after three periods. They added 16 more in the last stanza to preserve their opening win.

Hanna of United was the game's high scorer with 15.

Salem's first home game is Tuesday against Alliance State St.

Ex-Cell-O Walkout Is Hurting Chrysler

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Spreading effects of a strike at a key parts plant here today cut into Chrysler Corp.'s car production across the nation.

The Chrysler dispute, coupled with a long strike at Ex-Cell-O Corp. plants in two states idled some 35,000 workers.

Almost half Chrysler's national operation was down with 31,140 United Auto Workers members off the job in 19 plants. Another 5,000 UAW workers at Ex-Cell-O were idle for an eight week in Michigan and Ohio plants.

The production standards dispute at Chrysler's Dodge Main installation in Detroit cut the company's auto assembly line operations to a trickle. The only passenger car coming off the line was the luxury model Imperial produced here.

The Dodge Main strike involves 7,100 workers.

UAW Dodge Local 3 charges an unfair production speedup. Chrysler denies this.

Negotiations recessed Wednesday without progress. The talks were set to resume today.

Dodge Main supplies parts for all Chrysler assembly lines. The dispute has closed or reduced operations at company plants in Detroit, as well as in New York, California, Indiana and Delaware.

Ex-Cell-O, which makes machine tools and precision instruments, has been in a standoff with the UAW for eight weeks over their form of contract.

Why Pay More Shop and Compare Anywhere

Plan An Easy Christmas Menu

Christmas, Midwest style, is a day of relaxation with the family. Next to the tree unveiling, dinner is the high point of the day. In planning the menu, the mother of the house is guided by family tradition, including Uncle Ben's favorite broccoli dish, Grandma's famous mincemeat pie, and so on. Regardless of family variations the main dish in the Midwest is the regal ham. There the short shank whole ham, ranging in weight from 8 to 24 pounds, is preferred. The modern lean trimmed ham is available in both cook-before-eating and fully cooked styles. The shopper generally decides which style to buy according to her day's plans. On Christmas when she wants to spend much of the day with the family, the fully cooked ham is a convenient choice.

When buying the bone-in variety, plan on ½ pound per serving, allowing plenty for seconds and follow-up meals. Boneless ham, also popular, provides four servings to the pound.

Here is a typical Midwest Christmas menu: Ham with brown sugar glaze, broccoli with hollandaise sauce, escalloped onions topped with toasted chopped peanuts, cranberry sauce, relishes, hot rolls, butter, mincemeat pie with hard sauce trees.

Hard Sauce Christmas Trees (for warm mince pie): Press hard sauce into small waxed paper cones. Insert a wooden pick into the center of the hard sauce, leaving about ¾ inch of the pick exposed. Make one tree for each piece of pie and chill or freeze until they are hard. At serving time, remove the paper from the trees and decorate with silverettes. Perch one atop each pie wedge and you'll have a memorable finish to a perfect Christmas dinner.

Gaston County, N.C., with some 105 cotton mills, is the leading textile area of the United States.

CLEAN DRAWER

While you are at the business of lining drawers with paper first cut a cardboard the size to fit the drawer then three or four pieces of paper to go over it. The cardboard will keep the paper lying straight then it is a simple matter to remove the top layer of the paper as it becomes soiled and drawers will stay clean longer.

Make Candy For Your Friends

So you want to make candy to give to your friends, but you aren't quite sure it will turn out good enough? Stop worrying. Try this sweet chocolate nut roll.

You don't even have to melt the chocolate separately. Just stir-bend the chocolate morsels right into the boiled mixture of brown sugar, corn syrup and evaporated milk. Add a bit of vanilla, some chopped nuts, and that's it.

Nesting three-piece opaque glass ash tray set makes a stair case of candy. Each ash tray is filled with confections, then piled one on each other, wrapped with transparent plastic wrap and topped with a corsage of evergreens.

Semisweet Nut Roll
(Yield: Approximately 1 1/2 pounds)
One cup dark brown sugar firmly packed; 1/4 cup light corn syrup, 1/4 cup evaporated milk, semisweet chocolate morsels, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup chopped nuts.

Combine and blend brown sugar, corn syrup and evaporated milk in saucepan. Place over medium heat. Bring to boil; boil 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Add semisweet chocolate morsels; stir until blended. Add vanilla and nuts. Cool 10 minutes. Shape on waxed paper into two 12-inch rolls.

Chill until firm. Cut into 1/4-inch slices.

Semisweet Chocolate Nut Brittle
(Yield: Approximately 2 pounds)
Two cups sugar, 1 cup light corn syrup, 1/2 cup water, 1 teaspoon salt, one 6-ounce package (1 cup) semisweet chocolate morsels, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1/2 cups salted nuts, coarsely chopped.

Combine sugar, corn syrup, water and salt in large saucepan. Place over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to full boil. Cover and boil 2 minutes; uncover and cook without stirring to 300 degrees F. on candy thermometer or when a small amount of syrup dropped into cold water forms threads that are brittle. Remove from heat. Quickly stir in semisweet chocolate morsels, butter, vanilla and nuts. Spread thinly on a lightly greased baking sheet. Cool. Break into irregular pieces.

WAX SHELVES

If a coating of wax is put on shelves that are painted before covering them with paper, the wax will prevent the paper from sticking.

THE THINGS THEY WANT FOR CHRISTMAS

You know what they're hoping to find under the tree on Christmas morning. The lists have probably been made out for weeks.

You want their Christmas dreams to come true . . . but you know that those dreams of trains and dolls and trucks and bikes cost money.

Maybe you also know how a Salem News Want Ad can help you get that money. But just in case you've forgotten, here's the simple procedure. Look through the house for things you no longer use or want. Then call ED. 2-4601 and list those items for sale with a Salem News Want Ad. An ad taker will help you write your ad, if you like.

When you sell "don't needs" with a Salem News Want Ad you have the money to make their Christmas Dreams come true.

Cran-Orange Muffins
Ingredients: 2 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup shortening, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1 1/2 cups coarsely chopped cranberries.
Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening, baking soda and sugar; beat in egg and grated orange rind. Stir in sifted dry ingredients, alternately with orange juice, just until smooth. Fold in cranberries. Insert paper cupcake liners in muffin pan wells; fill liners two-thirds full.
Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until cake tests inserted in center comes out clean—about 25 minutes. Serve at once or reheat. Makes 18 muffins if pans whose wells each hold 1-3 cup are used. To chop the cranberries, quarter each with a sharp knife.

Roquefort Spread

Method: Have cheese at room temperature. Force Roquefort through a fine sieve. Beat in cream cheese until blended. Beat in cream, then sherry. Makes about 1 pint. If an electric blender is on hand, the Roquefort may be blended with the cream and sherry, then mixed with the cream cheese.

Favorite Holiday Brownies.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
We put through a radio-telephone call to Santa Claus. He was out in the workshop, but his wife said she is baking holiday brownie bars and special molasses cookies for him to take with him on Christmas Eve. That's exactly what many of our readers wanted to know.
Holiday Brownie Bars
(Yield: 64 bars)
One cup sugar, 2-3 cup shortening, 1/4 cup water, 1 12-ounce jumbo package (2 cups) semisweet chocolate morsels, 4 eggs, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 2 1/2 cups sifted all purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup of chopped nuts.
Combine sugar, shortening and water in saucepan. Heat to just boiling. Remove from heat. Reserve 1-3 cup of the semisweet morsels. Add remaining morsels to mixture in saucepan and stir until melted and smooth. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Add vanilla. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt. Blend into chocolate mixture. Fold in chopped nuts. Turn into greased and floured 10x15-inch jelly roll pan. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 25 minutes. Invert on cutting board; cool. Trim edges; cut into 1 x 2 1/4-inch bars. Frost with ornamental frosting; decorate with reserved morsels cut in half to form rosettes or whole morsels, pieces of angelica or citron.

Ornamental Frosting
Two to 2 1/2 cups confectioners' sugar, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 2 egg whites, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.
Sift together confectioners' sugar and cream of tartar; beat the egg whites and vanilla. Beat with electric beater or spoon until frosting holds its shape. Cover with damp cloth when not in use.

Traditional Steamed Pudding

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

For an old-fashioned, calories-barned, let's make merry, Christmas dessert, this rich steamed plum or cranberry pudding with hard sauce is a very jolly answer. You can just hear Santa saying "Ho, ho, ho" when he sees it.

Prune-Cranberry Christmas Pudding (Makes 2-15 servings)
One-quarter cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup sugar, 3 eggs, separated; 1/4 pound suet, ground; 1/2 cup molasses, 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon allspice, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 cups chopped plumped prunes, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1 cup canned whole cranberry sauce, hard sauce, whole prunes and marshmallows for garnish (optional).

Cream together butter or margarine and sugar. Add egg yolks; beat well. Add suet and molasses. Sift together flour, cinnamon, allspice, nutmeg, baking powder, baking soda, and salt; add to creamed mixture. Mix well. Chop prunes; add with raisins and cranberry sauce. Beat egg whites stiff; fold in. Pour into greased 2-quart pudding mold. Cover. Steam 4 to 5 hours. Unmold pudding on serving plate. If desired garnish mold with prunes stuffed with marshmallows. Serve hot with hard sauce.

Hard Sauce
Beat together 1/2 cup butter or margarine and 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar until creamy. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla; blend well. Brandy, rum or sherry can be used if desired.

Christmas Fig Pudding (Makes 6 servings)
Nine-ounce can kadota figs, 1 cup water, about; 1 cup honey, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 3/4 ounce can flaked coconut, 1/2 cup butter, 3/4 cup quick-cooking rice cereal.

Mince figs and to fig juice add enough water to make 1 1/2 cups. Simmer figs in juice and water until very soft, about 10 minutes. Add honey, ginger and coconut and bring to boil. Meanwhile melt butter in frying pan, add rice cereal and ginger and cook over medium heat stirring constantly until rice is a golden brown color, about 10 minutes. Add fig mixture to the browned rice and cook stirring constantly until thick. Remove from heat. Serve hot in dessert dishes with hard sauce, ice cream, whipped cream or topping made from nonfat dry milk crystals.

Pecan Ginger Wafers
1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons ginger, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup chopped pecans.

Blend shortening and sugar. Beat in egg, lemon juice and rind. Stir in dry ingredients and mix well. Stir in nuts. Shape dough into rolls, wrap in wax paper and chill. Slice crosswise thinly, place on greased baking sheet and bake at 350 degrees F. for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 5 dozen.

Household Hints
Children who take school lunches will appreciate a fresh lunch container each day. To chase stale food odors, give the containers a hot sudsy each evening. This cuts down on carry-over food odors which make future meals unpleasant.

Women who like to decorate with flowers soon become adept at unusual arrangements, and turn up uses for materials for which they weren't designed. One such is to tuck stems into foam plastic. It makes a good base for dried floral arrangement.

Noise does little for the nerves. Homes with children especially need some form of soundproofing to cushion the daily racket. In heavy-traffic rooms, rubber tiled floors help cut noise as does acoustical tile. Also, draperis will cut indoor sounds and keep out street noises.

GOOD TIP
Lots of scrubbing and washing of woodwork goes on at house cleaning time. An inexpensive soap dish bent over the edge of your scrub pail will keep the soap handy and also save on the soap as it will not be washing away in the water.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

If you want to measure the daring of Sen. Barry Goldwater, don't just watch him pilot his jet plane into the wild blue yonder. Wait, as I did, for the flying Arizona to come out of the clouds. He put both feet firmly on earth the other day in a talk with this columnist. He called for a summit conference with his hardest hitting opponents — George Meany, Walter Reuther and other politically active labor leaders — as well as with the nation's business chiefs, who this very minute are swinging into a wide-open offensive against labor's glittering machine.

The senator believes that only such a parley of politicians from both sides can head off a bitter ballot box war which would leave the United States in the ripped condition of England and France. In those nations both sides have polarized.

They are in two camps. A big labor party operates on the left. A big conservative bloc is on the right.

And in the middle the independent voter is lost like an ancient sign on an old Venetian bridge.

SEN. GOLDWATER, now probably the most influential Republican in the upper house, believes America would suffer if either power bloc eventually gains control of our "centralized" government.

"I can't believe that a man like George Meany doesn't understand the dangers of either group running the government," Goldwater said, somewhat musing aloud as I listened.

"I believe, too, that the corporate executives will understand the ultimate dangers. The problem is not to have any one man or group dominate Washington."

The senator said that shortly after ter our conversation he would send a formal letter to Arthur Goldberg, the AFL-CIO's special counsel, who many of us think is its ultra special philosopher.

Mr. Goldberg recently called for a summit "U.N. type assembly" conference of America's labor and business leaders. He wants them to get to know each other and try to head off the great industrial war insiders believe will break out in the next year.

GOLDBERG, America's most prominent labor lawyer, already has talked to U.S. Secretary of Labor Jim Mitchell and U.S. Secretary of Commerce Lewis Strauss about his plan to get 50 or 60 union and business chiefs together in some hotel, lock the doors and have them put in some "togetherness" weeks.

Both presidential cabinet members are reported to be enthusiastic.

Goldwater's message to Goldberg will urge a sort of Geneva type twin set of conferences — to end attacks which surprise no one and to agree on the testing of new strategic political devices.

"I hear a lot about stopping labor's political activity with some new laws," Goldwater said while outlining his letter to this columnist.

"Even if that would be desirable you couldn't do it. You'd need penalties and that's not the way. Labor is going to be terrifically politically active through its Committee on Political Action (COPE). And now we see management already starting to do the same."

"YOU CAN'T really stop either. But if we all sit down — labor, management and political leaders — and point out the dangers of two big blocs fighting each other until one is in control, maybe we can get reason out of both sides in their selection of candidates."

"If we can't, then Congress will be filled with the spokesmen of one power bloc or the other."

"The man who wants to run for office without trying up to either side will be wiped out. Look at what happened to the Liberals in Britain. They have six seats now. Not so long ago they were a mighty party."

Just what does the flying senator from out of the West mean by "reason"? Mr. Goldwater says he does not want to pilot anybody but himself. He simply thinks that by both sides talking it out, they might agree to come into a dis-

CARNIVAL

"I'm supposed to dance with a member of the opposite sex. Is that you?"
